

Hi, I'm Hippotatomus! I'm a hippo who LOVES potatoes - and I'm here to teach you all about what makes me and my favorite food so special.

Hippos may be the second biggest land animal, but they spend lots of time in the water. After all, it's very hot at home in Africa!
Hippos are also herbivores and enjoy chomping on grass. I bet they'd like potatoes, too!

Potatoes are VERY GOOD for your tummy with plenty of fiber. Plus, they're packed full of healthy nutrients, including potassium (which is great for your heart!).

Do you like sweet potatoes? These contain lots of vitamin A, which helps you see clearly.

You can be a superhero for the animals and eat plants like potatoes!